

On 23 Apr 93 00:18:59 GMT, Clayton Cramer observed:

: # Can someone tell me why when Mr. Cramer spouts on about homosexuals,
: # he only addresses homosexual men, and never, in any post I've read,
: # addressed lesbians? Granted, I stopped reading all his posts long, long
: # ago, so perhaps I missed something.

: Because women very, very seldom molest children.

Un-hunh. Yeah. Right. Sure.

You know that list of things that are stereotypically American -- Mom, apple pie, etc.? You don't hear too many stories about Mom being a child molester, because such stories would simply be unAmerican.

But that doesn't say that it doesn't happen.